

DANVILLE LAWYER SUCCEEDS BAKER AS U.S. ATTORNEY

Failed of Re-Appointment Because He Could Not Grant Favors to Politicians, Prosecutor Says.

REPUBLICAN CHIEFS OPPOSED HIM

New Official Will Move Headquarters of Office From East St. Louis to His Home City.

Harold G. Baker of East St. Louis, who will be supplanted as United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Illinois by Paul F. Jones of Danville, said today "certain Republican factional leaders in Southern Illinois" who sought favors which he could not conscientiously grant were responsible for his failure to be re-appointed.

Jones was appointed yesterday by President Hoover and will take office Aug. 1.

The politicians referred to, Baker said in a formal statement, bitterly opposed his application for re-appointment "because of my refusal to grant their requests when I felt it was my duty to refuse to do as they desired."

"Evidently," the statement continued, "these gentlemen have been successful in convincing those controlling and possessing the power of appointment that I should be supplanted."

"I have held the office of United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Illinois for the past five years. At the time of my appointment the confidence of citizens of this district of the Federal Court was shocked by a series of stories which had appeared in the public press and by acts and practices of certain of its officials. During my tenure of office I have at all times attempted to the best of my ability to prosecute vigorously all violations of Federal statutes in this district without regard for the dictates of political or other pressure and influence and have, with the co-operation of my assistants and other career officials, attempted to restore the confidence of the public in the administration of justice in the Federal courts of this district.

Headquarters to Be Moved.

"Whether we have succeeded in this is for the public to determine. 'I shall leave the office with the consciousness that I have endeavored to be a faithful officer and servant of the Government and the people of this district. To all those who have worked in an mannered way in carrying on the work I wish to express my thanks and appreciation of their efforts. To my successor in office I extend best wishes for a successful administration."

Jones will continue to live at Danville, transferring headquarters of the office there from East St. Louis. Jones has chosen his first two assistants and expects their appointments will be confirmed within a few days.

Jones, a law partner of Walter Grant, Referee in Bankruptcy for the Eastern Illinois District, has been member of the bar since 1922, when he was graduated from the University of Michigan. He was Assistant State's Attorney for Vermillion County, Ill., in 1922 and 1923, and has served as City Attorney of Danville. For the last eight years he has been in private practice.

The new District Attorney is married and has one son. He has been active in the American Legion and is chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Vermillion County.

Will Open Law Office.

Baker, after his discharge, plans to open a law office in East St. Louis with his assistant, Ralph Lesean. During the five years he was in office he earned a reputation as a vigorous and competent prosecutor. He made particularly effective use of the laws concerning conspiracy to violate the prohibition act and was successful in breaking up several large liquor rings.

Baker was appointed District Attorney in 1926, through the efforts of Senator Charles S. Deaneen, who was defeated for re-nomination last year by Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick. It was regarded as likely that he would not be re-appointed because of opposition on the part of Senator Otto F. Glenn. Delay in choosing his successor resulted from inability of Illinois political leaders to agree upon a candidate.

Baker's annual report, made public this month, contained a recapitulation of his record for five years in office, showing that convictions were obtained in 24.6 per cent of the criminal cases instituted.

Farmer's Wife Found Hanged.
The body of Mrs. Barbara Koch, 45 years old, wife of Louis Koch, a farmer, living on Lindbergh boulevard, near Melville, St. Louis County, was found hanging from a rafter in a garage in the rear of their home at noon today. A physician who had been treating Mrs. Koch for the past year said she had suffered a nervous ailment. She is survived by her husband and two sons.

MAGYAR TRAINED HERE, EXCELLENT NAVIGATOR

But Rated as Only Average Flyer by Teachers at Parks Air College.

Capt. Alexander Wilczek Magyar, who with Capt. George Endres completed a 2,200-mile trans-Atlantic flight from Harbor Grace to Budapest in the Justice-for-Hungary monoplane, was rated as "an average pilot in flying ability," with especially good grades in navigation and meteorology at the completion of three months' course at Parks Air College, near East St. Louis, last Friday.

Magyar, a former Lieutenant in the Austrian Flying Corps, began a three-months course at the college on April 18, 1930, to brush up on navigation and the handling of speedy American-made planes. He trained in the same type of ship in which he made his successful flight.

Upon completion of his course he attained a license of actual flying and qualified for a commercial pilot's license. He took his special course in navigation under Norman O. Anderson, ground school instructor at the college and a former navy officer.

Magyar told Anderson he was to take additional courses in navigation and the instructor referred him to John Geppert, $413 Bartner Avenue, who gave him special lectures in navigation, meteorology, continuing until last fall. Geppert, a Lieutenant in the Naval Reserve, is navigational officer of the Naval Reserve Squadron here.

Geppert presented him with a treatise issued by the Hydrographic Office, costing 75 cents, and a 15-cent nautical almanac, and said to-day he believed he used them on the trans-Atlantic flight.

From bulletins of the flight, Geppert learned that the "Rhund-line" was known as the "Rhund-line course," acting on a decision made by the German admiralty.

The statement was regarded as highly significant in Wall Street.

It had been felt that a general moratorium on all German pay-

Policemen During Run on German Bank in Cairo.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 16.—Police protection was requested yesterday by the manager of the Deutsche Orient Bank as a result of a heavy run by depositors.

Informing the House of Commons today of postponement of the visit he and Foreign Secretary Henderson had planned to pay Berlin this week and the decision of Chancellor Bruening of Germany to proceed to Paris, Edward Marjoribanks, Conservative, asked if MacDonald would "give an assurance that the Government will be no party to the imposition of political conditions, thus exploiting the financial crisis."

"I shall take note of that question," said the Premier's reply.

TWO FASCIST OFFICERS HURT BY 'FOUNTAIN PEN' BOMB
Such Devices Mailed at Genoa
Many Persons Arrested

By the Associated Press
GENOA, Italy, July 16.—Many persons have been arrested and examined by police in an effort to find the one who sent to Fascist leaders 40 small bombs disguised as fountain pens. Two of the "pens" exploded, wounding the recipients, minor Fascist officials, on the hands and face.

The bombs, police learned, were sent through the local mail, most of them addressed to local Fascists here and to the Cordon Palace.

Police also are questioning the suspects regarding a bomb explosion on the dock here in which no one was injured. Similar explosions have occurred in Turin, Bolgona, Rome and Genoa.

MRS. MARY F. HENDERSON, ILL AT BAR HARBOR, ME.
Reconciliation Effected Between Her and Foster Granddaughter, Mrs. Wholean.

By the Associated Press

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 16.—Mrs. Mary F. Henderson, 90-year-old matriarch of the fashionable Sixteenth street section of Washington, and widow of John R. Henderson, former Senator from Missouri, is seriously ill here today. No hope was held out for her recovery.

During the 10 days she has been ill a reconciliation has been effected with her foster granddaughter, Mrs. Beatrice Van Rensselaer Henderson Wholean. Last Friday Mrs. Henderson discovered her granddaughter was a foundling adopted by her son and his wife. Mrs. Henderson's actions came as the result of a letter received by Mrs. Wholean to prevent the elder woman's gift of the Henderson home to the Government as a mansion for the Vice Presidents.

Mrs. Henderson had two strokes of apoplexy since she came here four weeks ago. She lived at a hotel for a time and remained at home 10 days ago. Since then she has been confined to her bed.

New Trial Is Refused Sentences of at Least 25 Years Will Be Given by Judge.

LEADER UNDER INDICTMENT HERE

Charged With $1,000,000 Burglary of Grand National Bank; Defense Offered No Testimony.

By the Post-Dispatch
DENVER, July 16.—Minimum prison sentence of 25 years appeared today for Henry W. Boswell, "Cockey" Leonard and Abe Henderson, former Sonora from Missouri, in the robbery of the downtown Golden Eagle department store on May 10.

It took the jury only an hour to decide that the trio, caught in the act of holding up the store, were guilty of burglary by force and with explosives. The latter carries a minimum sentence of 25 years, maximum of 40.

The jury voted the defendants not guilty of burglary without force.

Motion for a new trial is to be heard tomorrow before District Judge McDonough, who presided at the trial and who fixes the sentence. Should it be overruled, sentence will be entered forthwith.

The trial of the gangsters started Tuesday and testimony was begun Tuesday. No witnesses were used in the defense, which threw all its reliance for light sentences on the trial of the gangsters.

The defense had not shown guilt of burglary by force or with explosives.

Judge McDonough overruled the defense offered on these grounds, holding that the use of weapons in forcing an entrance and taking possession of the store constituted robbery, and that possession of burglarized items by Leonard plus its general use in opening one safe, was sufficient foundation for the charge of burglary with an attorney.

CONFESSES PART IN THE SLAYING OF DEPUTY IN 1930

Howard E. Hall Admits Trying to Hold Up Officers—His Companion Killed at Time.

Howard E. Hall, 25-year-old former worker in a Pine street chili parlor, last night confessed to his part in the slaying of Deputy Sheriff William Goericke on a St. Louis County road the night of April 23, 1930.

His confession ended a 15 months' search for one of two men who attempted to hold up Goericke and Chief Deputy Sheriff Arnold Willman, on Craig road, Old Town Street, road near the holdup, meth. George Vaughn, a 52-year-old iron worker, was killed, and the woman who identified his body gave the Sheriff's office the name of Hall as his companion.

They told the officers that the bear belonged to an employee of a company nearby who was celebrating a $1000 winning on a weather ticket. As the agents were destroying the bear in the basement, a truck drove up in the rear with 20 more cartons. Two men who said they were Sydney Campbell and James Jackson, proprietors of the place, were arrested.

LEWIS CASS NELSON
 FUNERAL TOMORROW

 Retired St. Louis Banker Died
 While on Visit to Atlantic City.

The funeral of Lewis Cass Nelson, retired St. Louis banker and member of a well-known Central Missouri family, will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the residence, 23 Lenox place. Burial will be in Bellfontaine Cemetery.

Mr. Nelson, who was 82 years old, died yesterday in Atlantic City, N.J., of hardening of the arteries. He had gone to Atlantic City a week ago, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson.

He was born in Boonville, Mo., being descended from Virginia and Kentucky families of note, and was educated in the University of Missouri and Yale University. After leaving college he entered in banking in Boonville for three years. In 1870 removed to Fort Scott, Kan., where he established the First National Bank, and continued as its cashier for seven years.

He removed to St. Louis in 1877 and was cashier of the Valley National Bank, and from 1882 to 1889 president of the St. Louis National Bank. He retired from active banking management in 1899, and gave his attention to his large corporate interests.

Mr. Nelson was an influential Democrat, but never sought office.

He was a brother-in-law of the late Lon V. Stephens, Governor of Missouri from 1897 to 1901.

Dr. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for Governor in 1924, was his nephew.

He is survived by Mrs. Nelson, formerly Miss Louise Bradford, one son, James Marin Nelson of 2 Dromara road, and a daughter, Mrs. C. E. Leonard of Boonville. Another sister, the former Mrs. Stephens, later Mrs. John W. Johnson, died two years ago.

Why buy a

SECOND-CHOICE TIRE when FIRST-CHOICE costs no more?

YOU see pictured here the first-choice tire of the world—the famous standard Goodyear All-Weather.

Every inch and ounce of it reveals superior quality, yet it sells at no premium in price.

It leads all other tires in sales and popularity, simply because it performs for the man who uses it as no other tire can or does.

As for it being first-choice, you needn't take Goodyear's word for it—that has been settled by millions of car owners like yourself.

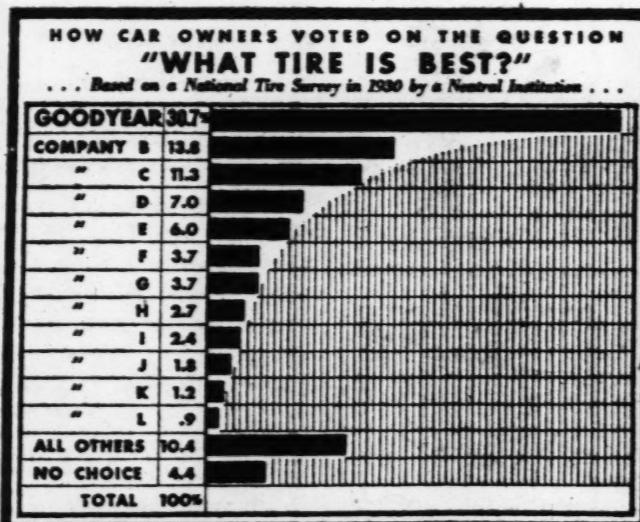

A great and unbiased public institution recently completed a nation-wide survey, asking motorists "What tire is best?"

The vote was taken in every state—in cities, towns and on farms, and the answers were not influenced in any way.

As the chart shows, the preference for Goodyears was nearly 2½ times that for the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes.

This result checks with the known buying habits of the American people, for "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Price is a great inducement in times like these, and despite their higher quality Goodyears sell at prices as low or lower than other makes.

Look at the values quoted here, then ask yourself the simple question: "Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?"

LIGHTNING STRIKES NATIONAL CAPITOL

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 16.—An electrical storm broke late yesterday over Washington with hail and high wind accompanying a pelting rain. The temperature fell from 93 degrees to 72 within two hours.

Capitol police reported lightning fired the awnings outside the office of Chairman McFadden of the House Banking Committee near the middle of the west side of the structure. Witnesses, however, insisted the Goddess of Freedom on the dome was struck, but no damage was reported. William Tyler Page, House clerk, who was telephoning at the time, was shocked slightly.

A hickory tree 150 yards from the White House, in the northeast corner of the grounds, was destroyed. Twigs and branches were thrown 30 to 40 feet and a concrete chimney 150 feet away.

Lightning struck one wing of the Census Bureau Building, starting an attic fire that was extinguished quickly. Employees had been excused from work.

Several private dwellings and a church in Anacostia, D. C., were struck, the church being ignited. A flagpole at the Naval Hospital was destroyed and trees about the city were hit and many blew down.

A giant poplar in Fairfax County, Va., near here, more than 100 years old and 75 feet high, used by Union troops as a temporary post during the Civil War, was struck and set afire. Firemen from McLean saved a part of the tree.

MOSQUITO GAVE IDEA FOR IMPROVED PLANE

Sikorsky Now Completing Largest Commercial Amphibian in World.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, July 16.—The largest commercial airplane in the world is nearing completion in Connecticut and it can trace its ancestry directly to a mosquito which lived and died in Russia in 1910.

In that year a man of 17 abandoned experiments he had been conducting with a helicopter and built his first airplane. To the considerable surprise of his friends the plane flew. It flew, in fact 12 times. But on the thirteenth hop the engine died in midair and the plane crashed. The young inventor crawled unharmed from the wreckage and set about discovering the reason for the engine's sudden failure. At last, working by the process of elimination, he came to the gas line. He blew through it and discovered a dead, defunct mosquito which had clogged the fuel line and thus, as it turned out, had given its life for the advancement of science.

"Planes will never be safe," the inventor decided, "so long as so feeble a thing as a mosquito can destroy the power plant. Evidently what must be done is to have more than one engine so that when the need arises they can be divided, one for the mosquito and one for the plane."

Thus the idea of multi-motored planes was born in the mind of Igor Sikorsky. Three years later Sikorsky built the world's first two-motored plane and ever since has been an advocate of extra power, for to him the mosquito was a symbol of all the things that happened to a motor which might well disaster if but one engine is available.

During the war Sikorsky built 73 bombers with four engines each, the first of this type ever to be constructed. After the war and the revolution he came to America and opened a factory in which he employed fugitives of the old regime, many of them now in the American court. His first plane in this country was the big ship in which Rene Fonck planned to fly the ocean. After an accident which killed two of his crew, Fonck abandoned the Atlantic flight and the plane was sold for commercial work in South America, where it is still in service. Sikorsky then turned his attention to multi-motored amphibians and this type is still his greater interest.

The flying boat with wheel gear for landings on earth now nearing completion in the Sikorsky factory near Bridgeport is the largest plane ever built except the German DO-X and the largest intended for regular commercial service.

It is 75 feet long, has a 114 foot wing spread, is 23 feet high from the ground to the top of the cabin, with its single wing high above that, and has a cable 55 feet long accommodating 40 passengers and a crew of five. When completed it will go into service on the Caribbean Line of Pan-American Airways. A sister ship is already under way.

Skouras Super Theaters Co. is owned by Skouras Bros. Enterprises, Inc., it is stated, and the other half by Paramount Public Co.

According to the petition, Skouras Super Theaters Co. operates the Ambassador under lease, and Skouras Bros. Enterprises, Inc., and the Missouri under lease from Paramount Public Co. The petitioners complain that since Warner Bros. acquired control of Skouras Bros. Enterprises, Inc., the latter has been operated to the detriment of minority stockholders, so that instead of earning $5000 a week, as previously, the companies concerned are losing that amount and are rapidly drifting toward insolvency.

Dividends have been suspended on the class "A" stock of Skouras Bros. Enterprises, Inc., it is stated, while first run theaters in St. Louis not affiliated with the Skouras chain are increasing their business and profits.

The petitioners charge that Charles and Spyros Skouras made a profit of $4,000,000 in the sale of the class "B" stock to Warner Bros. and that the sale was against the interests of the holders of class "A" stock. They ask that the Skourases be held liable for their alleged profits and also for $150,000 salary said to have been paid Spyros by Warner Bros.

3-STATE ASSOCIATION

Preservation of Natural Beauty and Advertising of Area Are on Program.

An organization to conserve the natural beauty of the Ozarks of Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma and to advertise its advantages as a place to spend vacations was formed at a conference at Hotel Statler yesterday. The conference was attended by representatives throughout the territory.

Hugh Stephens, Jefferson City, was elected president of the organization, which is named The Ozarks, Inc. Ben D. Reynolds, Joplin, and John T. Woodruff, Springfield, and John D. Patzer, Cape Girardeau.

The committee was authorized to incorporate the organization and plan for a meeting in September. Sanders, who is chairman of the State Development Committee of the chamber, presided at the meeting and said it resulted from suggestions of park authorities who attended the national conference on State parks here last May. He outlined the advantages of the Ozarks and explained they might be preserved through a conservation program which includes the development of a national park, beautification of highways, recognition of historical landmarks and expansion of State parks and game preserves.

OSKALOOSA, Kan., July 16.—
Fred Swoyer, 27-year-old Jefferson a new car failed to win back the attention of Miss Blanche Davis, Winchester telephone operator, to-rival, Lester Milligan, 28.

Both the Milligan and Swoyer

this section. Swoyer was released under $25,000 bond.

Sheriff C. Aull said J. M. Phillip-identified Swoyer as the purchaser of the pistol found beside the body of Milligan July 6 on a road near the farm the latter rented.

Milligan was killed beside his auto. It was the second time over the month that Milligan had been attacked which Swoyer sought.

Milligan was returning home after taking Miss Davis to church when he was shot. Swoyer, whose farm home is on the same road as that occupied by Milligan, was said by officers to have been in FABRIC shoes are walking away with all the fashion-honors now!

Newer than any kid slipper is this French-heeled white oxford in silky shantung-textured Tosca. Add white ribbon ties (even blackones!) and behold the chic!

You'll like the Tosca sport shoe, too . . . in natural color combined with caramel leather. This rough-ribbed fabric wears surprisingly well, cleans like a charm, and is gloriously cool!

Count the cost before you "save" a dollar on cut-price shoes

The Nisley Idea is this: To build all our own shoes in our own plants for our more than fifty stores, and sell them to you with only one profit. To make finer, softer, more "expensive" shoes as raw materials decline in price . . . instead of skimping the shoes and reducing the price.

And finally, to produce new styles . . . new modes . . . at just the tempo you demand. Thus Nisley never has "old stock" to clear away! We can fit you right now in the style that you want, and our courteous shoemakers are waiting to serve you.

WIRES UNDERGROUND

50 Miles of Police and Fire Lines Buried in Last Four Years.

During the last four years, 50 miles of telegraph and telephone lines of the Police and Fire Departments have been changed from overhead to underground routings, and 15 more miles will be placed underground this year, Andrew J. O'Reilly, superintendent of the two systems, said yesterday.

The underground cables now in use, he said, are principally telephone connections, the stations with the overhead wires used to connect alarm boxes with the trunk systems. Up to this year there were 1929 miles of overhead wires in use and 129 miles of underground cable. All but 10 of the 52 fire stations in town are connected by underground cable. The work of laying 50 miles of underground cable in the last four years has cost about $100,000.

TWO SLAIN WHEN KILLERS WALK IN CHICAGO SALOON

Crowd Told to Stick 'Em Up Then Fals Are Shot Dead; Labor Union Trouble Blamed.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Two men were fatally wounded early today in a saloon in what police think was labor union outbreak. The victims were L. S. Murphy, alias Edward McFadden, and Frank Davis, both of whom, police said, have records as law violators.

Murphy, Davis and Edward McFadden, business agent of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs Local, No. 212, and about 11 other customers were sitting in the back room of the saloon when two or three gunmen entered.

"Stick 'em up," they ordered. But before any of the 14 men could comply, a noise of gunshots was heard. Both Murphy and Davis sank to the floor. The gunmen rushed out of the door to a waiting automobile and disappeared.

McFadden and Murphy's widow, Hazel, were arrested, but both refused to talk.

Itinerant's Disciples and His Two Sons Open Court Contest at Seattle.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 16.—A $100,000 estate amassed in 10 years by Daniel Salwt, an itinerant street preacher before he formed the Seventh Elect Church in Israel here, is the prize in a court fight between his disciples and his two sons.

The cultists say the estate consists of free offerings from their poverty and earnings, entrusted to Salwt for the church. His sons are Arnell and Clayton Salwt, who came here from Robinson, Ill., to claim the estate. Salwt left no will.

Twelve disciples escorting an elderly woman, wearing a crown of sparkling brilliants and stars, sat in front rows of the crowded courtroom yesterday. She succeeded to the high priestess office held by seven young girls before Salwt's death in 1928.

Attorneys outlining their case, said Salwt was virtually penniless before he came here.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—More than 60 cities are equipped with police radio systems and others are planning to adopt them. A year ago there were fewer than 10 such systems.

Under a plan of the Radio Commission, adjacent police radio stations have identical frequencies so patrolmen in each city get the emergency broadcasts simultaneously. State patrolmen in some areas also get the alarms and are on the lookout for the fugitives on the highways.

EMPIRE CITY RACE TRACK,
N.Y., July 16.—The crack sprinting Heels showed one of his smartest efforts under 127 pounds to register a handily victory in the Fleetwing Handicap, a dash of about six furlongs which served as the headline attraction here today. The colt bore the silk of John W. Curtis home with a strength to spare over L. P. Proctor, lightly weighted Protractor while the latter saved his place by three lengths from the Hanover Stable's Arab. Foilow-Thru and Checkberry completed the field.

Flying Heels, with Workman in the saddle, was a 3 to 5 choice. The son of Flying Ebony covered the distance in the good time of 1:09 2-5, leading all the way and staying off the challenger of two fast steppers. John Thorne and the lightweight tried to run him down but had enough after reaching the head of the stretch, when Protractor took up the task of chasing the leader. Workman kept Flying Heels going smoothly and held Protractor safe. Arab turned on a great burst of speed at the end to annex third money. Checkberry could not cut much of a figure at any time.

BENNY BENGOUGH TO JOIN BROWNS; FERRELL HURT

Benny Bengough, catcher who was a familiar figure to St. Louis baseball fans while in the uniform of the New York Yankees, has been obtained by the Browns from Phil Ball's Milwaukee club, officials of the Browns announced here this afternoon, and Jack Crouch, youthful catcher, has been sent to Milwaukee on loan.

Bengough will join the club Saturday in New York and will likely be inserted into the Browns lineup upon his arrival. He is an experienced player and is familiar with the International League, and despite the fact that he is smaller than the orthodox catcher, he stayed with the Yankees for seven years. He is 5 feet, 7 inches in height and is a "pepper pot" on the diamond. He was sold by the Yankees to Milwaukee last November. For the last two or three years his duty with the Yankees was confined mostly to the bull pen.

Ferrell departed from Boston for St. Louis this afternoon for treatment of his injured right hand, which was swollen when he attempted to block the plate against Pickering Boston in the game Tuesday. Ferrell's hand began to swell and yesterday he was unable to play in the double-header. An X-ray picture taken last night disclosed a fractured metacarpal and Ferrell was ordered to St. Louis for treatment.

The Latona Jockey Club was requested to take over the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes, an annual feature of the autumn meetings at Churchill Downs.

FIELD OF ONLY SEVEN EXPECTED TO RUN IN $70,000 RACE

TWENTY GRAND READY FOR BIG CLASSIC FINAL WORKOUT SHOWS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Seventy-grand for Twenty Grand—if he can do it.

That is the sum that the gallant son of St. Germans-Bonus, called the greatest three-year-old since Man o' War, will earn provided he gallops to victory, while almost everybody expects he will do in the $70,000 Arlington classic at Arlington Park Saturday afternoon.

The race, as it shapes up today, will have seven certain starters, with a gross value of $37,400, making it the richest three-year-olds stake in the world. Twenty Grand, if triumphant, will drag down $7,900 to add to his 1931 winnings of $134,194. The big three-year-old already is America's leading money earner of the season.

Twenty Grand rules an over-weight record in his class, and a unit of his good workout yesterday, when in the blistering heat of mid-afternoon, he galloped a mile and a quarter under restraint on a slow track, finishing pulled up in 2:11. It was not fast work, but the super-condition of Twenty Grand was evident. There was not a trace of lameness in his legs and big body that developed in his victory in the Derby, and his hindquarters were muscle in his left hip.

Twenty Grand is ready.

Jimmy Rowe, youthful trainer of the famous thoroughbred, was jubilant.

"He is ready," Rowe said. "He is as good as he ever was in his life. Twenty Grand has convinced me he is about the best horse I have ever seen. He'll win the classic handily."

Galloping gracefully over the course he will travel Saturday afternoon, Twenty Grand went through his final test impressively. It was not a test for speed, for Marshal Lilly, the 45-year-old Negro exercise boy for the Green-tree Stable, had been cautioned to keep the colt in restraint and just allow him to run at a good even pace. The three-year-old champion raced the half in :48, three-quarters in :52, the mile in 1:40 1-5, the mile and the full mile in 1:44 4-5, and the full mile and a quarter in 2:11.

With the race two days away, there will be no more workouts for Twenty Grand.

Before Twenty Grand went through his last gallop, other candidates for the classic also took their final runs. St. Brideaux, stablemate of Twenty Grand which will be coupled with him as entry, galloped the mile and a quarter classic route in 2:10. Considering the dull and slow condition of the track, the workout installed St. Brideaux as a dangerous contender for second or third money in the race.

Made Under Strong Pull.

Mate, owned by A. C. Bostwick, millionaire sportsman of Philadelphia, which competes with Twenty Grand in the Freshmen and won the $50,000 American Derby, went a mile and an eighth in 2:00 3-5. Mate, which probably will be second choice in the classic, never has been regarded as much of a work horse, and his gallop, while not impressive, was satisfactory to Owner Bostwick. His exercise rider had him under a strong pull all the time.

Big Boy Peterson To Battle Knost Here Next Monday

Dave Knost's opponent in the feature 10-round fight bout on Matchmaker Clyde Hancock's professional boxing card Monday night, at the Battery A arena will be Big Boy Peterson, New Orleans heavy. The Knost-Peterson bout will be supported by five six-round battles. The card will be an all-heavyweight affair, with the exception of the Negro scrap in which Allen Matthews, colorful St. Louis welterweight, and Clarence "Kid" Bell will be the ring foes.

Matchmaker Hancock announced today that Chick Rains of Dodge City, Kan., and Russell Conklin of St. Louis have been signed for one of the six-round bouts on the program.

Peterson's record reveals that he has been meeting outstanding heavyweights for the past five years. He was entered in many of the major tournaments and competition tournaments in the East. For the past two years he has not been as successful, but he fought such foes as Willie Strubling, Prince Carnera, Jimmy Maloney, Jack Renault, George Godfrey and others.

Knost has been training diligently and will be in fine physical trim for the bout. He will be seeking his seventeenth knockout victory as a professional.

Tom Pivac also is taking his workouts seriously. Tom is staging a ring comeback and will take on a protege of Joe Lohman, Pete Letko, young Toledo heavyweight.

TIPPETT WOULD SIGN MATTHEWS AND THOMPSON FOR TITLE BOUT

By W. J. McGoogan.

There is some talk but little action concerning the first program of boxing bouts to be held under the amended Missouri law which permits decision contests over the 15-round route.

Seneca C. Taylor, State boxing commissioner for the St. Louis district, is in Michigan on his summer vacation and is not expected to return until after Sept. 1 when the law goes into effect. In the meantime Newell Ferry, his deputy, is acting in his place. Ferry stated that he would not care to assume the responsibility for naming judges and sanctioning the first 15-round bout.

Jack Tippett has talked of putting the bout in the Arenas at 8 p.m. on Aug. 10. Eddie Wood and John F. Quinn, both of St. Louis, are the main contenders.

Tippett has been corresponding with Ray Alvis, Chicago, relative to a 15-round title fight between Young Jack Thompson, welterweight champion, and Allen Matthews. St. Louis' Negro has been going strongly this summer. Alvis told Tippett that he would be willing to bring Thompson, who also is a Negro, to St. Louis for a bout on Labor day if there was a likely contender here.

The office of the Beatrice Creamery Co., 2119 Morgan street, was robbed of $1807 late yesterday by four armed men, who held up 13 employees. In their haste, the robbers overlooked $1000 which was in another cash drawer.

On entering the office on the second floor, one of the robbers warned Miss Sylvia Kramer, switchboard operator, to stop all calls and stood guard over her. His companions pointed pistols at other employees and took the money from a cashier's cage occupied by Miss Elizabeth Geoghegan, 3457 Potowmac street.

William Barr, 7425 Amherst place, University City, manager, entered the office just after the robbers drove away in an automobile. Woman Notes Auto License and Robber Is Captured.

OUSTED DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOT TO DEATH AT KANSAS CITY

Jack Dalton, Who Plotted to Free Three Convicted Men, Is Slain When Playing Cards.

By Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 16.—Jack Dalton, former Jackson County Deputy Sheriff, was shot and killed last night as he sat playing cards with a party of friends at his cottage near the south city limits.

Dalton was suspended from the Sheriff's force a year ago when he was implicated in a frustrated plot to free three Home Trust Co. robbers as they awaited execution in the county jail.

He was shot six times in the head and once in the back by an unidentified man who fired through a window.

Sheriff Ben Norberg said he had been told that an attempt was made on Dalton's life two days ago. Police said Jimmy Howard, victim of a machine-gun killing here last winter, had threatened to kill Dalton.

Detectives said Dalton had made enemies by the methods he used in attempting to force rural Jackson County roadhouses to purchase a brand of near-beer manufactured Chicago, which he represented. The officers recalled that Dalton had been accused of attempting to extort money from gamblers and bootleggers some months ago and had threatened chicken dinner reports in an attempt to take fees for "protection" from his hoodlums.

HERE is what this announcement means to every owner of a small home—without over-investment, you can now enjoy for the first time every advantage which oil heat brings to larger homes.

You burn low cost fuel oil, instead of the costlier distillate you would have to use with most other types of burners. This difference in the price of fuel will save you hundreds of dollars.

You have Oil Heating designed by the very engineers who pioneered this matchless home comfort when they introduced the famous Williams Oil-O-Matic years ago. Every feature, including the Williams Diffusor, that has made Oil-O-Matic the world-leader is found in this lower priced Model K.

And, in addition, HUSHED HEAT!

HUSHED HEAT is something brand-new. No other oil burner has it, regardless of price. It is the result of a discovery made by Williams' combustion engineering staff. It is unusually quiet . . . and clean . . . and economical.

To produce HUSHED HEAT, an oil burner must deliver a practically perfect mixture of oil and air, never permitting either to vary in amount. This perfect mixture must be burned cleanly in mid-air—every atom of it.

Your nearest Williams Oil-O-Matic dealer will install the new Model K.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 16.—Dr. Randolph G. Adams, librarian of the William L. Clements Library of American history at the University of Michigan, cites an entry in the orderly book kept by Sgt. It may be worthwhile to observe that in the beginning of the war, there were but few of the New England troops that were guilty of this vice, but laterly forgetting the precepts and example of their good education many have from a false pride and ambition looked upon the use of oaths and profane speeches as the mark of genuine and military spirit. Now, however, these very persons have in some instances been taught at and despised by those whose good graces they would gain by imitating their impious example."*It is fairly well established that Washington swore at Gen. ## The Federal Prison Scandal.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE monstrous conditions said to exist in prisons confining Federal juvenile prisoners, as charged by the Wickesham Commission, will be denied by some prison officials, a few politicians and by many who believe in sanguinary and drastic punishment for everyone who either makes sells or buys a drink of liquor. Granting prison conditions are bad almost beyond belief, the laws themselves which operated to put many of Federal prisoners behind the bars as Federal prisoners are even worse.

Out of more than 2,200 prisoners of both sexes under the age of 18 that were imprisoned during a specified time, 229 were there because they were so unfortunate as to be caught in violations of the prohibition law. Hundreds of others out of the same total were also imprisoned for violations of the auto theft law, the white slave law, and the law against narcotics; all Federal laws which were accomplished nothing but were taking away the rights of the states to make their own laws, filling the prisons and wasting money loose on society hordes of criminally hardened human beings that have come from the ranks of juvenile and first time offenders. These sentences alone have contributed immeasurably towards making our penal institutions (with exceptions) the disgraceful blot on our civilization that they have been for some time.

But just what is going to be the result when an enlightened and outraged citizenry, living within its grasp that power gained by blood and suffering—the right of trial by jury—steadfastly refuses to indict or to convict, and send to prison, violators of such laws, regardless of the setting or the evidence submitted?

Is Glad He Lives in the U. S. A.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
IN your issue of July 10, I note an item on the difficulty of collecting tithes in England, and that the Church of England is resorting to forced sales to the politicians.

Now I know, as we all do, that there are a good many things wrong with our own Government, but I think that all of them put together are still not as bad as having to pay tax for the support of organized religion. Nevermore let anyone tell me that the English are a freer people than we are, or that our way of independence gained us nothing that the people of England have not also gained.

If the war had not been fought and won, we would likely be paying tithes today. In spite of our officials, the United States is still the best place on earth to live.

Not the Way to Solve the Farm Problem.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE continued lack of rain brings with it reports of fires in farmers' fields. Over the week-end a large quantity of wheat was destroyed in Illinois along the Wabash River. Everyone who has motored any distance into the countryside is familiar with burned areas along the highway. Many fence posts are destroyed or posts seriously charred before control is effected. By far the greater number of these fires are caused by city dwellers who toss lighted cigarettes from automobiles. Agricultural prices are low enough this year without farmers having to take losses in crops occasioned by thoughtlessness. The old proverb says, "If you are sure that the discarded cigarette or cigarette is extinguished which is followed in the city apartment is a good one to follow while visiting in the country these days."

A Nice Little Jail for Albert.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I HAVE read with interest of the trial and conviction of Albert B. Fall. It surprises me that the Government is unable to supply said defendant with a suitable climate or otherwise. Why cannot the Government, really sympathetic to a favored few, build a nice little jail on Three Rivers ranch? There Fall will not be exposed to unfavorable weather and may be attended by members of his immediate household, thereby saving the Government the expense of keepers, etc. Perhaps Mr. Doheny and Mr. Sinclair would defray the cost as a reward to a good old scout.

A Word for Mr. Broadbent.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE noise of that Sunday baseball crowd is still echoing through the columns of the newspapers and the corridors of City Hall.

Could Sam Broadbent make even two extra fans behave like good boys, which baseball fans are not?

And don't you think a man who, in hard times, in a city of no more than 800,000 population, can put on a show that will move 45,000 people to put cash on the counter, deserves one pat on the back?

POLITICIANS OR THE PEOPLE?

Adversity offers the sole opportunity of the people to wrest power from the politicians. It is useless in piping times to dispute the canard that one of the parties stands for prosperity and the other for hard times, as it is difficult under normal conditions to displace the party in power.

It has been truly said that virtually all progress in political science has been made in times of adversity. When the times are, to use the picturesque phrase of Shakespeare, out of joint, the people interest themselves in the political causes of the disorder. This is what is happening now in the United States. This was the business depression, not the Grundy tariff or Mr. Hoover's failure to realize that as the great creditor nation the United States must assume leadership in an otherwise leaderless world, that gave the Democrats their great gains at the polls last November. The Republicans were in power, and quite aside from their responsibilities for what was happening, they felt the people's wrath. It has always been so, and the same thing would happen to any party in power under such conditions.

Various warnings to the politicians of what is going to happen have been sounded within the last few months. Gov. Murray of Oklahoma goes further than anyone else. He says that unless the vested interests relax their death-like grip on the country's windpipe, the Republic is going into a decline that will in time rival the fall of Rome. Gov. Murray is hardly regarded as one of our prophets, but his expression nevertheless reflects popular resentment in the region of the Arkansas River. The United States does not need a liberal government. We have said so, many times. After 10 years of government for the benefit of privilege, a country which ought to be immune from international maladies contributes more than one-tenth of the approximate 50,000,000 unemployed persons in the five great industrial nations. Congressman Karch of Illinois warns the politicians that if they do not present liberal candidates in the regular parties next year, the people are going to turn to independent candidates. Conservatism, which serves admirably as an argument for holding what we have when we have something to hold, loses its magic as a means for recovering what we have lost.

The politicians will not, of course, believe this. Like the laws of the Medes and Persians, the politicians are changeless. Secretary of State Becker, who heads some prison officials, a few politicians and by many who believe in sanguinary and drastic punishment for everyone who either makes sells or buys a drink of liquor. Granting prison conditions are bad almost beyond belief, the laws themselves which operated to put many of Federal prisoners behind the bars as Federal prisoners are even worse.

Our Director of Streets and Sewers, Mr. Brooks, is on his way to London, where he is to address the first International Congress on Public Cleaning, at Guild Hall, on "Scientific Treatment and Utilization of Town Refuse."

It is a pity the director could not take with him a sealed bottle of our smog for the purpose of comparison with London fog. The relative density of what Londoners breathe in the foggy season, and what St. Louisans breathe in the smoggy season, ought to be interesting. To keep the streets of a city clean is important, but it is equally important to keep the air of a city clean. We imagine that if Mr. Brooks showed the Londoners what a squirt of our smog does to a guinea pig, they would wonder how we survive the winter. The guinea pig would, of course, at once display red eyes and develop sinus trouble, and what with sneezing and choking, would fairly typify us all when the smog is thick.

THE GREATEST AMERICAN.

It must be known before long who is the greatest American by the standards of our grotesque conception of distinction. We have had more elimination tests than any people in history, and it is interesting to recall what some of them have been.

To begin, Mr. Coolidge was President for six years. We survived that, whereupon the tariff was increased. Then two young men drove an automobile backward from the Pacific to the Atlantic. By that time pole-sitting had set in. One boy was taken out of a tree asleep by firemen. Marathon dancers appeared on the highways. A man walked backward from Texas to New York. An Illinois man played a piano continuously for three days and nights. Another man blew a piccolo 35 hours. One couple waited three weeks. A Chicago woman began dancing in November and kept it up until the next February.

The endurance preacher entered the contest. He is still in it, a preacher in Louisiana who started at 10 o'clock last Sunday morning having kept it up for 58 hours. Women competed in calling their husbands. An Illinois woman rocked in her rocking chair for 48 hours without stopping. With an amazed world looking on, we undertook to determine the issue of greatness by seeing who could stay under water the longest, who could eat the most watermelon, who could call hogs the best, who could make the worst music on the fiddle, who could devise the biggest shenanigan, who could be the greatest ass, who could exude the most nonsense, ad libitum, ad nauseam.

When most of us went to school we were taught that the name of Julius Caesar is the greatest in history. And Caesar was like none of these.

RECALLING "THE VERY GREAT DOCTOR."

In a time when Lindbergh and Byrds push into the remaining unknowns, the finding of a letter written by David Livingstone in the heart of Africa is a reminder that the boys who went marching off in '61 also knew the inspiration of an adventurous hero. Seldom mentioned today, that mild Scot who entered a cotton mill at 10 and the dark continent wastes in his 20s, was to the Civil War bugle boys what polar airmen are to their grandsons. The letter is of particular interest because it was written shortly after he discovered Lake Nyassa and contains an enthusiastic description of that "great water." His 30 years of explorations took him through a third of Africa—no other man did so much. He worked not in haste for publishers back in London, but carefully for the advance of civilization and accordingly progressed slowly, living with the natives and noting down everything worthy of record. His eyes first saw the Victoria Falls, he sounded the slave trade's death knell, he stirred the imagination of James Gordon Bennett. In the end he left a record of accomplishment which led Stanley to write: "We look in vain among the nationalities for such a name."

SEATTLE AND MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Using the extraordinary weapon of the recall, the voters of Seattle routed Frank Edwards from the mayoralty by a vote of 35,000 to 21,000. The issue in the recall campaign was the dismissal by Edwards of J. D. Ross, director of the city's publicly-owned electric power utility. Ross was replaced last March after serving more than 25 years. Ross interpreted the result as serving notice "on friends and foes of public ownership that Seattle is definitely committed to protection and progress for its city-owned utility." He will undoubtedly be reinstated and a successor to the Mayor will be appointed by the City Council.

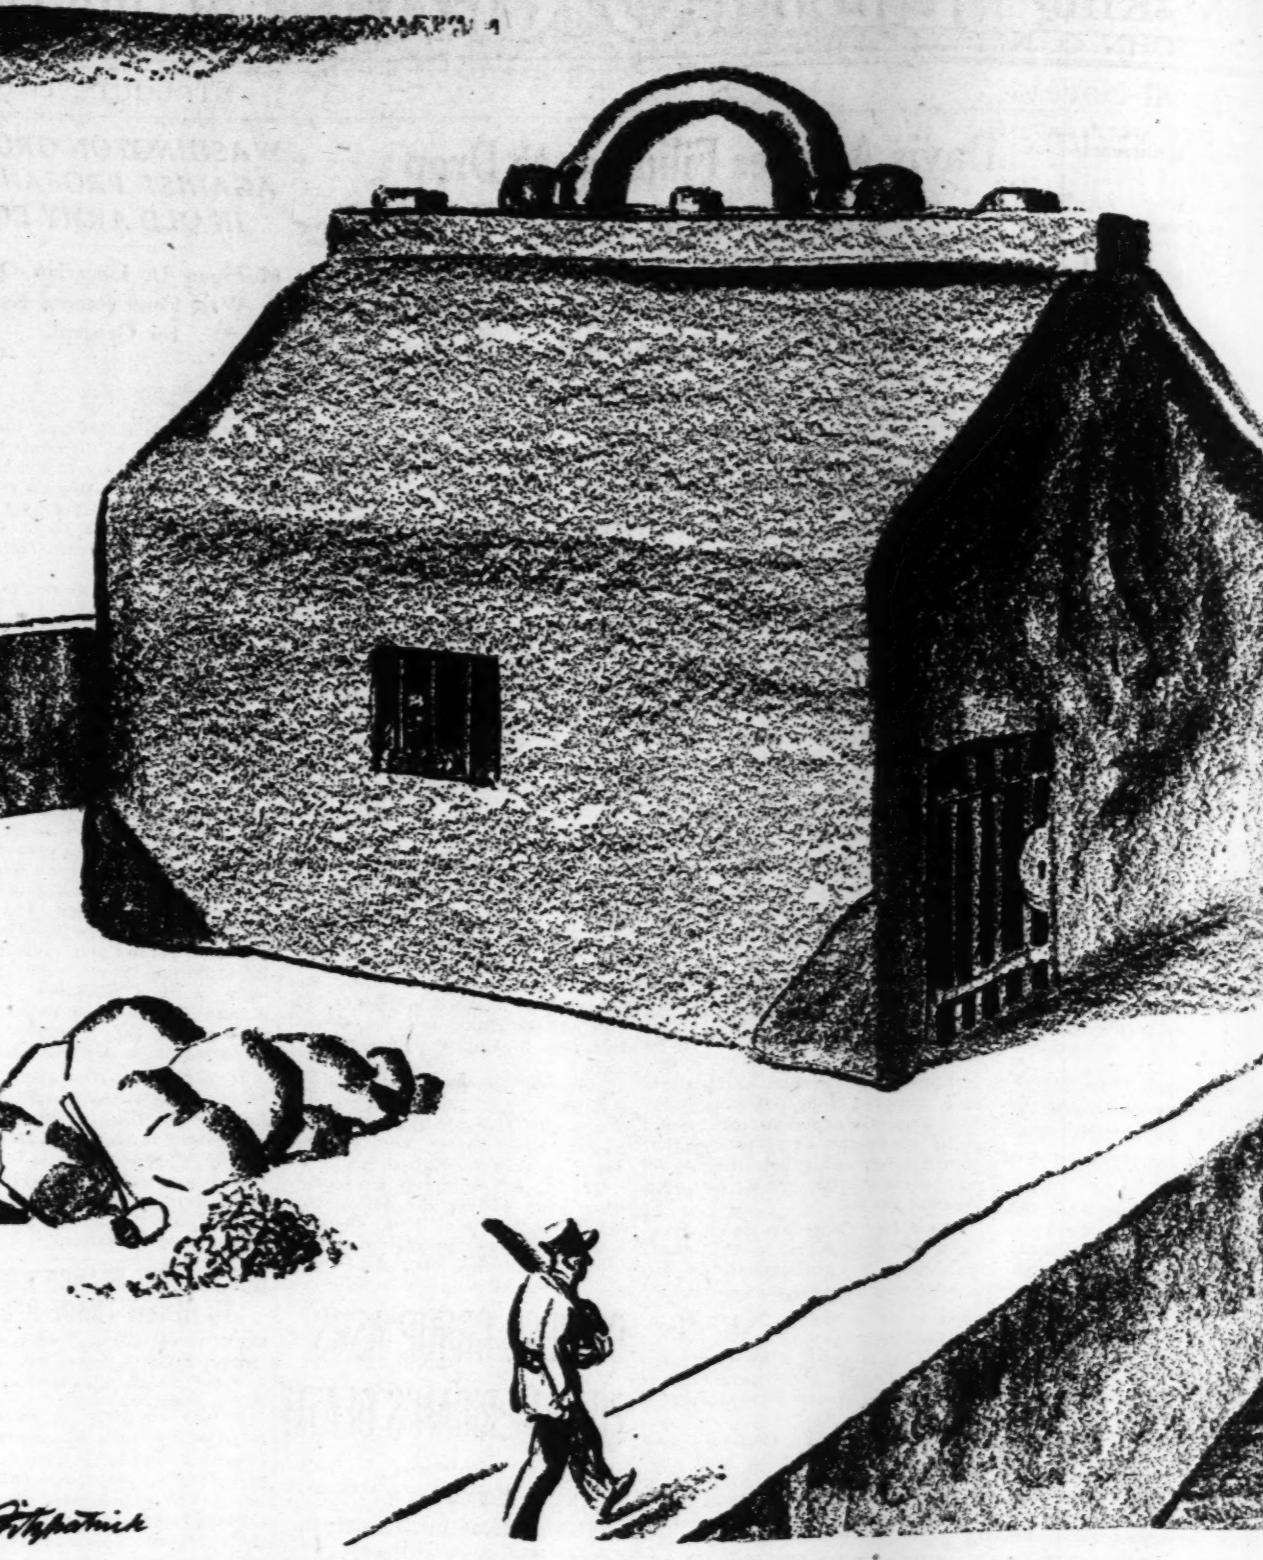

Perhaps nowhere in the country is sentiment for public ownership stronger than in the Northwest. Last November Oregon elected Julius L. Meier, an independent candidate for Governor running on a platform whose chief plank called for the development of water power by the public, as opposed to private capital. Tacoma, Wash., was a pioneer in municipal ownership. That city began its power plant in 1893 and has more than $13,000,000 invested in generating and distributing equipment. By 1928, it was boasting that its power rate was the lowest in the country.

WHEAT PRICES AND MR. HOOVER.

Mr. Hoover's attack upon "a limited number of speculators," whom he charged with raiding the market to depress the price of wheat, was issued last Friday. The following day an Associated Press dispatch from Chicago said: "Notwithstanding President Hoover's denunciation of short selling, wheat fell to new low price records today. The market closed at about the day's bottom quotations, with all deliveries in Chicago dropping below any level heretofore since 1894, and Liverpool down to a new low level for 277 years." Wheat sold yesterday in Chicago for 50¢ cents a bushel, the lowest price in the history of the Board of Trade, which was established in 1848. Failure of Mr. Hoover's statement to help wheat prices indicates either that the raiders whom he denounced are continuing their activities, or that whatever bear raiding exists is a negligible factor in the situation. We think the latter, in view of the tremendous surplus of wheat throughout the world, is the correct view, and that the President, smarting under criticism of his Farm Board, went far astray in issuing his statement.

EVOLUTION OF DOHENY'S LITTLE BLACK BAG.

Detroit's Criminal Court Reform

Unification of criminal courts, effected in 1920, has brought greater efficiency, swifter trials and reduction in crime; from 2000 felonies pending when reform began, docket was quickly cleared so cases now are handled when fresh; appeal and bail bond evils have been eliminated; idea may revolutionize law administration.

From the Journal of the American Judicature Society.

DEPUTIES unified criminal court was a pioneer court of daring conception. Its powers were utilized immediately to achieve an amazing success. After a partial eclipse, this court is coming back and promises to revolutionize theory and practice in criminal law administration.

At the end of a year, automobile insurance rates were reduced to effect a saving of $1,500,000 a year to Detroit owners.

The amazing speeding up of business could not conceivably have been effected by co-operation of two distinct courts even if they had possessed the same ambitious Judges who made this record. The time formerly wasted in transferring a case from one court to another is revealed in figures that are beyond the holding of imagination. In 1919 the percentage of cases thus brought to the trial court by the end of the fifth week was 58, and in 1920 it was 80. In cases in which examination was waived, the new court naturally showed to advantage. In 1920 the percentage of felony cases brought to hearing within one week after first arraignment was 12; in the following week it was 86.

Great credit is due the police of Detroit. We cannot distribute the credit, but we know that in 1921 there was a reduction of major crimes (homicide omitted) of 88 per cent over the preceding year, and over the average for five preceding years.

During 1920 the Judges of the Recorder's Court showed a strong trend toward coordinated action. They set out to clean up their dockets and accomplished a good deal. There was a reduction in warrants issued in felony cases from 7918 in 1929 to 5736, and in misdemeanor cases from 26,529 to 18,041. This reduction, together with better work, resulted in the disposal of 7396 felony cases in 1920 as against 5663 in the preceding year. And the court was proud to be able to report on Jan. 1 that less than 200 active felony cases were on the docket.

This is the way the State vindicated its rights in felony cases. Prisoners were arraigned in the morning. Most of them waived examination, since a guilty person could gain no advantage from that source. Those waiving examination were arraigned on information in the afternoon in the branch where Presiding Judge Keldan was trying felony cases. Those who pleaded guilty were sentenced before the court rose, and the day for trial was set, seldom later than the day before the others. If there was any change in the status of the charge this was done by the court, and no appeal or motion between prosecutor and defendant's counsel, which is still assumed to be the only method in other cities, and which has been considered one of the most evil, but unescapable, features of criminal justice.

Misdemeanor cases were disposed of day by day, allowing time needed for the defense. The court was always ready. Counsel carefully chosen were appointed to defend indigent prisoners, and were paid by the county. Promises of trial, and especially in the next night, were often exacted many respondents to forego bail and to escape the clutches of lawyers seeking business in the court house.

Probably the biggest thing last year was a solution of the bail bond evil. After a study of the system in use in the Common Pleas Court of Cleveland, an elaborate plan was adopted. In all bonds for more than $500, a lien attached to the property. Approval of bonds is entirely in the hands of the clerk and no bond is to be approved without a certificate of ownership, inclusions, and assessed valuation, other bonds on the same property and unpaid forfeitures. There appears to first to be considerable difficulty in securing such certificates promptly and at a reasonable cost, but these difficulties have been surmounted. This system should go far to make a bond a genuine liability and to pun professional bondsmen, of doubtful character, entirely out of business.

An ordinance was then drafted and adopted by the City Council making it a misdemeanor to loiter "for the purpose of soliciting the services of a bondman or lawyer" and a special deputy superintendent of police was assigned to enforce the law. There has recently been conviction of a professional bondsmen under this ordinance, and a sentence of 45 days in jail.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, July 15.

DR. RAY HALL, who recently was forced to terminate his career as a House expert in the Department of Commerce because, as he says, he refused to "Wickesham" his annual report on the balance of international payments of the United States, feels no bitterness over his dismissal. Dr. Hall, it will be remembered, clashed with his superiors when it was found that his scientific computations for 1920 did not conform with the administration's idea of what the public should learn from a statistical report. Attempts to make him "cook" his figures failed, and the expert walked the pink.

He is not bitter, because he has known the ways of bureaucracy too long to be amazed at the treatment he received. Neither does he feel heroic over his assertion of independence. No really honest person, Dr. Hall believes, could have done otherwise.

"It was just a plain case of intellectual dishonesty," he explained. "I've carried out orders that were sheer nonsense, but never before was I asked to be dishonest. The order was too much for me to fulfill, so I'm jobless now."

HE does experience real regret, however, for the loss of the work which he enjoyed. Appointed in 1921 to the then vacant position, which was a pet project of Mr. Hoover, he made an amazing success of it. In his possession are clippings from more than a hundred foreign newspapers acclaiming his achievements. Often he lay awake nights figuring new methods of getting at the elusive invisible items of commerce. "It was a glorious game of solitaire," he said, "and I revelled in it." Mr. Hoover himself once termed Dr. Hall's report "the most important single compilation in the entire field of any of the international economic relations." Hall entered upon the work with immense enthusiasm. "These were the best years of my life," he said.

During 1920 the Judges of the Recorder's Court showed a strong trend toward coordinated action. They set out to clean up their dockets and accomplished a good deal. Economists and statesmen in this country and abroad have rallied to Dr. Hall's defense. In the hundreds of letters he has received since his dismissal, there is not a word of disapproval for his course of action.

Of Making Many Books JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Original Novel

SONGALS. By Eleanor de Lamast. (Farrar & Rinehart, New York City. $2.)

LEVEL readers who may have become insufferably bored with the he-and-she twaddle of our fiction and the pathetic efforts of literary bounders to be "hot" and "frank" and "modern" with nothing but the impossibly obvious in their silly little books, might care to hear that one author de Lamast has actually written a novel in a novel way.

The 10 dull local items are the tenth heading, and when the back, and the disgusted journalists are still talking.

"Well?" demanded Al.

"Well yourself. It'll have to do.

"Well, it's a damn shame. You got to admit that sheet's a disgrace. Hell, Heinie!"

"Yeh. It's dull, all right."

"Personals" is decidedly worth reading. The author has extraordinary insight, and altho' a newcomer, she writes like a veteran. She is definitely on her way and should travel far.

"Well, we got two new ads this week."

"Ads! You can't run a small paper without a snappy social sheet. The kids want to see their names in print. How can I get 'em if they never do nothing but eat and sleep? That ain't right."

The disgruntled journalists once more scan the column of "Local Notes," and the reader, looking over their shoulders, is inclined to agree that it's nothing to cause instant failure. There are 10 socials, the following being perhaps most exciting:

"This Thanksgiving season marks the 20th anniversary of the foundation of our Town Hall. A young man, William of our Town, has received a diploma from the School of Dressmaking. Congratulations."

"Florence Widgell won the Sixth Grade Oratorical Contest in our school House Tuesday. A sterling silver medal was presented. Good work, Florence."

MEXICO IN QUEST OF NATURAL GAS
SANS FRANCHISE

made into the feasibility of establishing a municipal gas system, but it had not been determined whether such a system could obtain natural gas. He said officials of the Missouri Power & Light Co. had told the city the pipe line company would not sell gas direct to a municipal system. A mass meeting will be held in Mexico to discuss the gas situation Friday, when there likely will be some discussion of a municipally owned plant.

The rates for artificial gas in Mexico start at $1.85 a thousand cubic feet for the first 5000 cubic feet used monthly. The next block is $1.65 a thousand for the next 5000 cubic feet and $1.45 a thousand for the next 5000 cubic feet.

Rates proposed by the company for natural gas, if the city granted the franchise, were 20 cents a hundred for the first 500 cubic feet, 12 cents a hundred for the next 2500 cubic feet and 50 cents a thousand for all over 3000 cubic feet used a month. The franchise negotiations have been pending several months.

The Panhandle Eastern has a main pipe line about a mile from the city limits of Mexico and has built a feeder main extending to the present artificial gas plant in Mexico, but the main has not been connected up with the gas distribution system there.

Fulton Test Case in Prospect.

The city of Fulton has been carrying on negotiations for several months with the Panhandle Eastern for natural gas for a proposed municipal distribution system and has in prospect a test case which likely would settle the natural gas supply system for all Missouri towns near gas pipe lines. The Panhandle Eastern built a feeder line to the city limits of Fulton and sought a franchise for subsidiary companies to distribute artificial gas in Fulton, which now has no gas system. The town declined to grant a franchise and last March voted a bond issue of $80,000 for establishment of a municipal gas distribution system.

City officials were unable to get an agreement with the company to supply natural gas and were forced to understand it was the policy of the company to sell gas to municipalities and systems. Following an informal conference with the State Public Service Commission last month, Fulton officials presented a formal demand upon the pipe line company for gas, indicating that if gas was not furnished the city would file a case before the commission seeking to compel the furnishing of service.

The pipe line company then suggested a conference with Fulton officials, which is to be held soon. If such a test case is filed with the commission, it would involve the question of whether the gas pipe line companies are subject to regulation as public utilities. If the commission ruled they were, and was sustained in an appeal to the courts that inevitably would follow, the commission then would have power to order the lines to furnish service to all applicants. The companies contend their business is interstate commerce and not subject to State regulation.

Recent court decisions tend to support the view that certain gas sales by such pipe lines within the State are intrastate in character and therefore subject to commission regulation.

RULINGS FAVOR INTRASTATE VIEW.

In most instances natural gas sold from the pipe lines in Missouri distributed within the state by sub-divisions of the pipe line companies, or by privately owned utilities holding contracts with the pipe line companies. The distributing companies theoretically are under control of the Commission, as to rates, but in effect the Commission has not had actual control of the gas rates because the pipe line companies fixed their own rates for gas delivered at the city gate to the distributing company.

A test case instituted by the commission against the Cities Service Gas Co., which has been owned by the Doherty interests, to determine if the commission had power to regulate the activities of the company and to require it to file rate schedules, is pending for decision by the commission. Evidence in this case showed the pipe line company sold to distributing companies at 40 cents a thousand cubic feet, but sold to large industrial users at 20 cents a thousand cubic feet, at rates as low as 16 cents a thousand cubic feet.

If the commission rules it has jurisdiction, and is sustained by the courts, it then would have power to investigate and correct the alleged discriminations in rates, as well as to regulate operations of the pipe lines.

BANK BURNS AT ILLINOIS.

investigate the country's financial situation, with particular attention to Government obligations.

With the assistance of this commission, the Government hoped at that time to be able to avoid a moratorium or other severe measure.

The situation was said to have been made acute because of the depression in the nitrate and copper markets this year.

President Jarmillo announced a drastic economy program on July 1, cutting the budget almost $500,000.

Several Locals Have Been Calling Delegates Home From Convention.

Delegates to the "rank and file" convention of Illinois miners in session at Belleville since July 6 will complete their work tomorrow and return to their homes, but the meeting will not be adjourned sine die. This, it was explained by President Fred Edmundson, will permit the delegates to assemble on short notice if prompt action should be required by any move of the United Mine Workers of America which the convention renounced.

Edmundson said the meeting represented 70 per cent of the miners in the State. An election will be held within the next three months and the meeting officials of the convention will be asked to serve. They are: Edmundson, Ziegler, president; Andrew Stevens, Danville, vice president; and William McElroy, secretary-treasurer.

Nine delegates have been recalled from the convention by their local unions. The six representatives of Westville Locals No. 5509 were withdrawn Wednesday and three delegates from Galesburg Local No. 558 were ordered home yesterday.

SLAIN WHEN FREED IN COURT

Negro Shot by Mother of Girl He Was Said to Have Attacked.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 16.—Robert McElroy, 41 years old, a Negro, was shot twice and fatally wounded yesterday as he was leaving a courtroom, after being freed at a preliminary hearing on a charge that he assaulted a 5-year-old girl.

Police said the bullets were fired by the girl's mother, Mrs. Prude Little, 24, also a Negro. She was arrested in the courtroom, and at Police Headquarters said McElroy had got what he deserved, expressing her belief he was guilty of the assault charge.

By the Associated Press.

Mr. Helen B. Davis, 151 Jefferson road, Webster Groves, filed suit for divorce at Clayton yesterday against Dr. Phillips N. Davis, a physician with offices in the Missouri Building.

Mrs. Davis, who alleged general indignities, stating her husband was quarrelsome and indifferent, asks custody of their three young daughters and a son, funds for their maintenance and alimony. The Davies were married in 1920 and separated this month. Dr. Davis maintains also an office at 7348 Manchester avenue.

Reports Seeing Negro Drown.

A Negro about 50 years old was reported to have drowned himself in the Mississippi River at the foot of Lucas avenue late yesterday. Mrs. George Schlichitz, 3330 Virgil avenue, said she saw him walk to the water, toss a blanket into the river and then plunge in. He did not reappear.

DOAK DENOUNCES EFFORTS TO PREVENT DEPORTATIONS

WORD "LOUSY" NOT LIBELOUS, NEW YORK JUDGE DECIDES

Says There Are Persons Who Sincerly Wish "Patriotism."

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 16.—Secretary Doak today denounced as "un-American" those organizations which, he said, attempt to prevent the deportation of aliens who advocate the annihilation of our democratic form of government.

Speaking before the Alexandria Kiwanis Club, across the Potomac River from Washington, the Secretary of Labor said he could not understand "these precious ones" whose slogan seems to be "America first and who 'love every country but their own.'

Despite their opposition, Doak recalled, the Labor Department in the last fiscal year deported 18,000 aliens, who proved undesirable or who had entered the country illegally.

"Many of these aliens . . . . he said, "were affiliated with organizations which demanded that the Government is to overthrow the Government of the United States by force and violence." It is to prevent the deportation of aliens of this kind that the energies of certain individuals and societies are directed. There are persons and societies in this country who sneer at the word "patriotism." They believe and preach that a man has a right to advocate the annihilation of our democratic form of government, and . . . . to go unchallenged by the law."

FORMER CONSTABLE GETS 5 YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Killed Cabool (Mo.) Resident, Misleading Him for Suspected Abductor He Was Pursuing.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., July 16.—James Nevels, 50 years old, former Constable of Willow Springs, Mo., was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to five years in prison today by a jury in the Oregon County Circuit Court at Alton, for the killing of Lester Bolerjack, 21-year-old business man of Cabool, Mo., last September.

The constable was fatally wounded last September when Nevels fired on an automobile in which he and his wife and cousin were returning from the funeral of a relative near Mountain View. Nevels mistook Bolerjack for Charles Coburn of Cabool, who was thought to be abducting a girl and whom Nevels and two Cabool officers were chasing.

Nevels said the shooting was accidental. Mrs. Bolerjack, wife of the slain man, testified they thought it was a holdup.

Nevels was a member of the St. Louis police force during the World's Fair in 1904. It is expected he will appeal.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET REGAINS ITS COMPOSURE

Rally on Stock Exchange Causes General Advance at Close; Sterling Stronger.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The financial markets regained their composure today as conditions in Germany assumed a more reassuring aspect.

The inter-governmental conference at Paris, the calmness attending the re-opening of the German banks and the statement of the Reich's Finance Minister that maintenance of interest and sinking fund payments on the external debt were being regarded as "a matter of course" were developments helping to dispel some of the fog.

The price of shares on the New York Stock Exchange after a temporary decline in the afternoon rallied during the final hour and closed with general advances. German bonds strengthened substantially, while sterling exchange, whose weakness yesterday had caused considerable concern, improved fractionally at the same time the French franc declined nearly a point. Foreign currency quotations in many instances, notably of the German mark, were only nominal.

872 students, 651 of whom are members of religious orders.Religious orders represented include 11 organizations of women and five orders for men. Twenty-two states, the District of Columbia, and the Philippines Islands are represented in the enrollment.The first time you drive a Pontiac you're due for a genuine surprise—especially if you have based your ideas on small cars costing just a little less. You'll find the whole "feel" of Pontiac different—it gives you a totally different kind of ride.First is the feeling of power. You'll note pick-up, speed and a driving ease you never looked for at so low a price. If you like to get where you are going without being boxed in traffic or shifting too much on hills, you'll call Pontiac a performer after your own heart.Then there's comfort—deep seats, flexible springs, four hydraulic shock absorbers and enough weight and length. And, even if you know little about mechanics, you'll readily see how rubber cushions at 43 points in Pontiac's chassis take up road shocks.The graceful body lines, the broad one-piece fenders with neat built-in fender lamps, the deep V-radiator with its chrome screen—these and many other fine-car features will help make you proud to own a Pontiac... an outstanding General Motors value. You'll like the very low price, too—for what a satisfaction it

CITIES SERVICE WINS ANOTHER POINT IN STOCK SALE CASEJudges Overrule Demurral of Counsel for Kansas Banking Department.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 16.—The Cities Service Co. today won another skirmish in its suit to enjoin interference with sale of its stock in Kansas.Judges George H. Whitcomb and George A. Kline of the Shawnee

County District Court overruled

a demurral by Roland Boynton,

State's Attorney-General, and counsel for the State Banking Department to evidence offered by the Cities Service in support of its application for an injunction against the department's order suspending the sale of curb stock, except first preferred, from the right of state in Kansas.

The two judges previously had ruled the action of Carl Newcomb, special assistant bank commissioner in charge of the securities department, in withdrawing the department's approval of the securities had been taken under what the court held was an unconstitutional provision in the state securities law.

Cooper had buried the money after a bank failed and he became unreceptive for its safety.

The girl and Wright are said to have planted to slope, but Wright said he changed his mind and told

Orville Wingate, a friend, about the hidden funds. They got the money, he said, and divided it.

Wingate, in jail here, denies Wright's story.

Officers recovered $40 from

Wright.

FINE CARS

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice of matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Some of my friends and I planned a fishing trip. We had all been a number of times before and I did most of the planning. But a part of them went the day before and said nothing about it. This hurt my feelings.

My other friends urge me to do the same to them. But I have tried to tell everyone that I think they would feel it more if I keep on being friendly and say nothing. Would revenge get me anywhere? My friends say the bunch will try to run over me if I don't say anything. I have tried to brush it off, and everyone thinks I have succeeded.

You have had the right spirit. But you didn't have taken so many friends into my confidence. That never helps. Many of them advise a course they would not take themselves.

I would not show by look or manner, if it isn't too late for that, that I cared in the least. I wouldn't be stiff with them but I would not enthuse particularly. Just act as if it doesn't matter—this time. If they do it many times, then I should do something about it.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am 19 and he is 20. We are to be married on the 23d of next month. He is a country boy and not able to support my without some help from his father. To postpone the wedding would mean unhappiness for both of us. We are both in doubt about what would be wisest. What would you advise.

There is always a time of adjustment after marriage, with everyone, but especially with two young. It seems to me it would be unwise to handicap yourselves, until it is necessary, by financial difficulties. After all, the "unhappiness for both" of you in the waiting may be far less poignant than that which could come with some sort of economic dependence. My advice would be to give yourselves more time and build toward something more substantial.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am a girl of 13. All the girls around here are allowed to go with the boys but me. I like a boy three years my senior and he seems to be in love with me. But when I go out with him I have to slip out and go somewhere. Do you think I might get caught some day? Should I continue going out with him or quit it?

BABE.

Don't you believe you might defer this love affair for a year or so? When you see that boy a few years from now, you might wonder how on earth you could ever have fancied him. You see, you will be a lot of others in the meantime and when you are a better judge.

Yes, indeed, you will get caught sometime sure! Ask your family if they will not let you go with a bunch sometimes to have a little fun. Every girl wants to. But for a while just treat the boys like pals. Learn how to play tennis and swim. It isn't much real fun to sit around and moon at your water.

DEAR MRS. CARR: A young man I know, but have never been out with, seems interested in me, but he doesn't talk very much and neither do I, and sometimes these conversational pauses drive me wild. You say "find out his interests and talk about them." But I don't talk about them much. I gave a party not long ago, and he promised to come, but didn't. If I see him, shall I ask him why? Does a boy thank me when I finish dancing with him?

GRET.

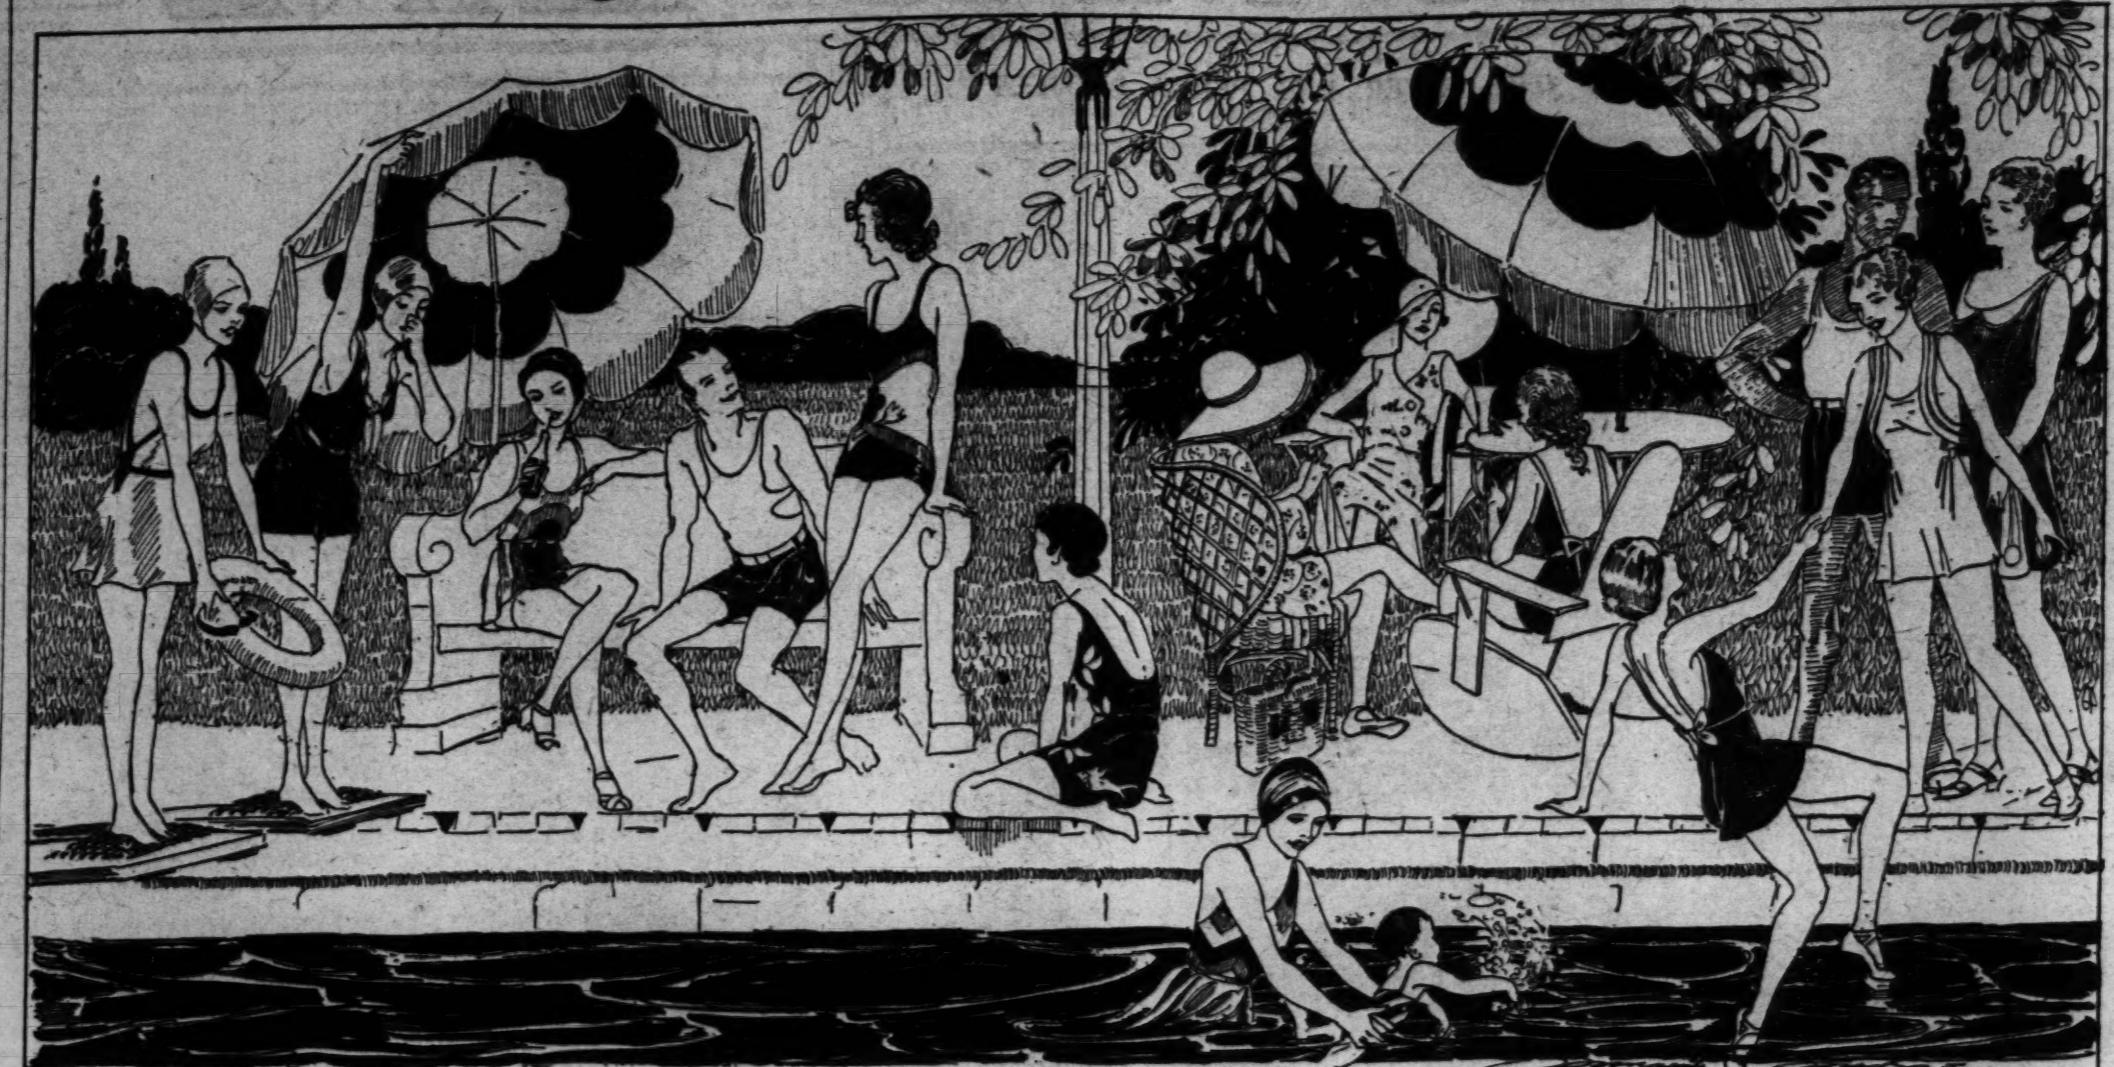

The boy may be just different both about talking and about going to parties. I think you might say that you missed him and wondered. He should have sent some kind of word or else spoken of it afterwards. But people do not always know about these little amenities. You could almost make up jokes of both of you being so sweet. If you laugh over it, that may loosen your tongues. It's all a matter of getting used to chattering and learning to use small talk. A boy thanks you for a dance when leaving after the dance.

DEAR MRS. CARR: My parents want to go with boys my own age and so it is necessary for me to know the age of the boy I am going with, but he refuses to tell me. How can I find out without asking his family. It puzzles me.

D. V.

Your parents ought to be able to judge by his appearance and actions whether he is too old to go with you or not. A few years can make no difference; some boys are older for their age than others and unless there is very evident disparity of age, I think it is foolish to quibble over it.

BATHING suits never before barely covering the trunks. The has played so important nor new improved feature of the suits yet immaterial a part in the is that what there is of them, is with regard to fit, form, and becomingness of line. Most frequent of jersey, light or heavy weight, they are well tailored and stitched so that they neither shrink nor stretch.

The suits, of course, are no less brief that the pajamas and beach wraps are voluminous, bold and wicker furniture to set off the voluminous display of brief and startling bathing suits, gaudy pajamas and beach wraps. The suits themselves are little but Oh.

My Most of them consist of a bib-like front portion which covers one's front fairly well attached at long distance by a pair of straps to the waistline at the back; a pair of trunks and usually though not necessarily a skirt what really is being worn for water sketches made there last Saturday afternoon reflect a few highlights in a mode pour le bain.

Dog Bites

THE warm days are the outdoor days for humans and dogs. The result is a seasonal increase in dog bites and a great danger of rabies or hydrophobia.

Dogs and humans must be considered, and the preventive measures advised are for the benefit of both. Dog owners sometimes overlook this point.

When the muzzling of dogs is recommended, or the leading of dogs on the leash is required, the consideration of these measures as discomforts imposed on dumb and defenseless animals for the comfort and security of humans only.

The facts however, are that dog bites are well known, and that it is in this manner that rabies or hydrophobia is spread from animal to animal.

Rabies is a transmissible disease caused by a specific agent. It has never developed spontaneously. If it were possible to keep rabid animals from biting and infecting other animals, the disease would die out.

It was stamped out in England for a period of time, but reappeared when, during the World War, dogs were brought in from other countries without being subjected to a quarantine period of observation.

Australia has never had any rabies and Denmark, Norway and Sweden have been free from the disease for more than 50 years.

The United States, on the other hand, has been badly affected. In 1890 the Federal census reported 143 deaths from rabies in 30 states; in 1908 there were 111 deaths, and rabid animals were reported in 53 localities.

In 1911 there were 1381 localities with rabid animals. Since then there has been a constant increase in the number of rabid animals and in the number of dog bites.

A vaccine has been developed in recent years which, when administered to dogs, renders them immune to rabies for a year. But even so, muzzling and leashing still remain the most practical method of checking dog bites and rabies.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO.

EIL McMAHON drove us from Police Headquarters to the home of the late Reverend Timothy Beazley, D. D. Curiously, the only delay on our journey was in a traffic tangle half way down the block from the General Trade Acceptance Bank, of which Gerald Curtinwood was a vice president. As he leaned back in the car, Colt looked at the white marble facade of that conservative and highly respectable institution and smiled.

"There," he said, "is the tabernacle of one highly successful twentieth century deity. To me it is often an interesting cause for speculation—what will the archaeologist of 5000 years from now think about New York? They are likely to make the most grotesque mistakes. Naturally they will assume that our finest buildings were used for worship."

"Sick in bed, prostrated, trained nurses won't see him quick enough," chanted Lengel indignantly.

"Where is the watch and where is the ring?"

Lengel's lips curled. "I think we better get the situation straight in our own minds before we get inside," he remonstrated in a low voice, and, turning back to Colt, "Come back to Lengel."

"Is Mrs. Beazley?"

"Sick in bed, prostrated, trained nurses won't see him quick enough," chanted Lengel indignantly.

"What's that got to do with these murders?" demanded Dougherty impatiently.

Just then Nell managed to swing far out to the left hand side of the door and shoot ahead of the blockader.

"It looks to me as if we are getting into something," said the tall, thin Inspector Fletcher, "if Mrs. Beazley had those trinkets in her bedroom. Don't forget she tried to put suspicion on Saunders, too. Gerald Curtinwood lied about where he was last night. I think Gerald Curtinwood sent some object of clothing out of town to be cleaned."

"You did not mention Isabel Saunders, her father, or the cat," remarked Colt quietly.

"I couldn't talk to her," Lengel explained.

Colt looked at Dougherty.

"I gave particular instructions," he explained, "to have the abrasion on Beazley's wrist photographed with a micro-camera. I have not seen the prints, but I carry in mind a clear image of that mark on the dead wrist. I believe Beazley was this watch when he died. Let's go in."

The door had been left open on the inside. Colt entered first with Dougherty, and I followed Inspector Lengel bringing up the rear. We went at once into the front parlor where, over the mantel, hung the portrait in oil of the dead minister.

"I have never been sure of that," retorted Colt. "It was said by a poet, not a scientist."

DUGHERTY snorted.

The scientifics have had a lot to say about it," he argued. "Judge Joseph Fields states that the average weight of a man's testicles is greater than in law-abiding women. The foot is shorter and narrower, the thighs are bigger in proportion to the calves, the cheek bones are more prominent. Check all that up with our widow. Moreover, the female criminal lives longer than the male criminal, she has greater powers of resistance, she is a more self-composed liar, and she stands punishment better. Her insensibility to physical or mental pain is notorious.

Colt chuckled.

"All true—but on statements from the book of a very amateur criminologist you don't want to arrest Mrs. Beazley?"

"Not yet," replied Dougherty. "But it is my confidence that all criminologists are amateurs if you don't happen to believe in them."

Colt was spared the necessity of a reply, for at this moment we drew up in front of the Church of St. Michael and All Angels.

For us was a disconcerting spectacle. Swaying and surging on both sidewalks as far as the next corner were peep-show crowds of morbidly curious people. Halfway down the block the police had stretched ropes to keep the sides clear in front of the church and rectory. They were now doing their best to keep the crowds moving, but were encountering difficulties. Who these people are—these men and women with nothing to do, who haunt the scenes of crimes, accidents and disasters, and who, for want of more exciting fare, will stand and watch for hours the construction work on an office building—has always bafled me. Like buzzards gathering in the sky, they swoop down where blood has been spilled or other outrage befallen. There they stand, sunburned, empty-eyed, apparently untroubled by any pressing business to them from the scene.

Colt called the Lieutenant in charge of the police detail and demanded that the street be cleared of these people. He then stepped forward to seize Col's proffered hand.

Col Alexander Powell was a broad-shouldered, vigorous-looking fellow of about 56. His firm face was brownly tanned. He was carefully tailored, and had that clean, immaculate look that belongs inalienably to an athlete. Horn-rimmed spectacles were his only evidence of physical weakness. He was that rare combination in modern New York—an asthetic mind in an athletic body, a panther of a man.

At this point Lengel desisted from further comment, as Col. Powell strode into the room.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Commissioner," he said briskly, and smilingly stepped forward to seize Col's proffered hand.

BOSTELMAN GETS
35 TO 40 YEARS,
HIS PALS 30 TO 40,
FOR DENVER CRIME

sentenced for Downtown
Department Store Burglary
May 10 After Their Motion for New Trial Is Denied by Judge.

NOTICE OF APPEAL
FILED BY COUNSEL

one of Prisoners, However, Is Likely to Be Released on Bond Pending Action of Higher Court on Their Petition.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DENVER, Colo., July 17.—
Henry W. Bostelman, St. Louis gangster, was sentenced to serve a term of 35 to 40 years in the Colorado Penitentiary today by District Judge McDonough, for his part in the robbery of the downtown
Golden Eagle Department Store
on May 10. "Cockey" Leonard and Abe Levin, Bostelman's accomplices in the robbery and also members of the Mass Avenue Gang of St. Louis, were sentenced to terms of from 30 to 40 years.

Sentences followed denial by Judge McDonough of motion for a new trial.

Following pronouncement of sentences for the condemned police of support, it is unlikely, however, that any of them will be released on bond. They have been kept in confinement since the robbery and subsequent revolver fight with policemen in which Bosteman was wounded after he had shot and wounded an employee of the store who got in his line of fire.

Concurrent Sentences.
The long sentences were entered in a charge of burglary with an explosive, which carries a minimum imprisonment of 25 years in prison, maximum of 40. On charge of burglary by force, which they were also found guilty by a jury Wednesday, they were sentenced to terms of from 30 to 10 years, the sentences to run concurrently with the long sentences.

They will serve their sentences
in the penitentiary at Canon City, recognized as one of the most "hard-boiled" prisons in the United States.

The St. Louis gangsters came to Denver early in May in a new Cadillac, heavily laden, flush with money and equipped with golf clubs and other paraphernalia of an extensive vacation.

They made their Colorado visit longer than they had anticipated, however, when they decided to hold up the Sunday office force of the Golden Eagle store and attempted to make off with the week-end receipts.

Buster, Unwittingly, Calls Police.

During the robbery Bostelman was the watcher on his rounds so that he could ride in his report boxes. When the watchman passed up one of the boxes, Bosteman instant, at pistol's point, that he report it, too.

It was a burglar alarm. Speedily the place was swarming with policemen. Bostelman made the watchman walk down the steps before him as a screen. When they reached the first floor the watchman stalled, Bostelman dropped behind a counter, and a revolver fight began in which he was finally shot in the hip and subdued.

The near-sighted Leonard was found hiding behind a counter with 10 vials of nitroglycerin, enough to blow down the building, carefully laid nearby on a pile of blankets.

Little Abe Levin, a pickpocket, jumped out a second story window and landed plump in the midst of a group of policeman, his ankle broken.

Their trial was swift. After the state had offered its evidence the defense announced it would present no witnesses and placed its reliance on a dissembler. In support of this move it was contended the men were not guilty of burglary by force or burglary with an explosive, since they had smashed no locks and blown no doors.

Bostelman, a notorious St. Louis hoodlum, stood before the bar with tears in his eyes as Judge McDonough pronounced sentence. He is under indictment in St. Louis as the leader of the gang of five men in the million-dollar Grand National Bank robbery there on May 25, 1930. Leonard is said to have been one of his companions in the Grand National robbery, but he has not been indicted.

All the servants are ex-convicts.
Bostelman served a term for burglary. Leonard for mail robbery.
Levin for peddling narcotics.
